fed officials believed that by telegraphing their intentions, they could convince investors to separate two different policy levers - interest rates and asset purchases.

the debt was backed by the more than 200billion in payments that the cigarette makers agreed to make to them over time to compensate for the cost of caring for sicksmokers.

here is what the doctor told me and i swear it works great:

whenever i take a look at your web site in safari, it looks fine but when opening in ie, it has some overlapping issues.
