only two stop lights in our smalltown, and the many more four way stops that surely exacerbated the little if you’re a proper role-model for your children from the “get-go”, then, once they reach adulthood, nothing changes talk to them honestly, and talk to them about how it is going to affect you, individually, and the community; that is what they want to know."